A Western Apology.

From the Shelton Clarion.

This is our first experience in running a newspaper. Little did we think when we placed our name in the Clarion as the responsible person for the matter that happened to find its way into these columns, that anything would ever happen that we would have to take back or have a head put on us. The item which appeared about one "Prof." Gerbert playing the "Arkansaw Traveler" around the street corners of Kearney for cold biscuits and slack and sour barley water has got to be apologized for. Last Wednesday, when we were going along one of the principal streets of the county seat, in company with several friends, there suddenly appeared before our gaze the slandered professor. He commenced the conversation, saying he had not been given his dinner by a servant girl at the back door, and thought he would make a lunch of the writer. We entered a protest, but to no use. He claimed he was 400 miles from home, both heels run over, and all wool and a yard wide, warranted to neither rip nor to ravel, and had killed enough editors to make a corduroy road from Lookout Mountain to Puget Sound. He unbuttoned his coat, and, gently placing his hand in his hip pocket, he camly gave us our choice between a retraction and having our carcasses shot full of bullet holes. As the thoughts rapidly traversed our mind about having our remains sent to an aged and loving mother, looking like the top sieve of a fanning mill, and how our creditors would mourn at our death; as we thought of another person who holds a warranty deed of four sections of our heart, town 6, range 13, and the idea of being shot by a second-class, one-horse, crack-fiddler was more than we could stand. Hence the apology.

Our Civilized Indians.

The most civilized Indians in the United States are the five tribes in the Indian Territory, viz.:The Cherokees, 20,000; the Choctaws, 16,500: the Creeks, 14,500; the Chickasaws, 7,000; the Seminoles, 2,500. Total, 60,500. Of these the whole number wear citizens' dress; 33,650 can read, and 2,650 have learned to read within the year. These Indians occupy 16,250 houses, and have built 2,700 new houses within the year. They have 12 boarding and 183 day schools, in which 8,470 scholars can be accomodated. The number of scholars who attended these schools during the past year was 6,250. The amount expended for education during the year was: From tribal funds, $156,856. and by Government, $3,500, this latter amount being for freedmen's schools. The number of church buildings are 131, and the missionaries 61 in number. The religious societies of the country expend no money on the five tribes except the pitiful sum of $1,600 per anum on Seminoles.

Prehistoric Mining.

Prescott Arizonia Miner

The workmen in the Silver Belt recently made a remarkable discovery, showing that the mine had been worked ages ago. The ten-foot bonanza recently uncovered continued to widen at every stroke of the pick, and left an overhanging wall on one side that looked more like loam than the ordinary wall or vein matter of a quartz ledge, and so soft that it caved in, in such a way as to obstruct the work. They then went up above the cave, and decided to run down on the ledge in a new place, so as to get under the cave in order to have solid ground to work on. In clearing away to start in, they found lying on the ore on top of the loam, three feet from the surface, five stone hammers, such as are found in the ancient ruins and abandoned mines of the Aztecs all over the country, showing clearly that the Silver Belt had been worked in prehistoric ages.

Charley De Long's Widow.

Elida F. De Long has filed her petition in insolvency, owing to the expense of supporting herself and family of five minor children; liabilities $2,373, assets none, her furniture being pledged to a firm of grocers. The debts are principally for money loaned and goods supplied. The lady is reported to be the widow of ex-United States Minister to Japan, Charles De Long.

He Sang.

From the Washington Capital.

When time is consumed by sapient and long-drawn orations which sometimes mock the detective powers or the reporters' gallery to find anything in them, we are moved to offer the anecdote from the records of the Virginia Legislature during a similar dead-lock: "Mr. Jones of Buckingham county arose and said, 'Mr. Speaker, I have'nt got no speech to make just yet, but, by ——, I can sing a song, Rip-fol-de-rol-de-ray.'"

THE MONETARY CONFERENCE.

W. M. Evarts has been interviewed in regard to the Monetary Conference and believes it will succeed. He holds the opinion that England's abstention or willingness remains a matter of indifference, as concerns the United States. In the course of conversation Mr. Evarts declared roundly that our country is strong enough to maintain an independent course of action. Furthermore, he sees no ground for fear that the Conference would collapse, notwithstanding the predictions to that effect emanating from the English press. Evarts has so far had no opportunity to personally sound the British authorities, Gladstone being absent at Hawarden for the Easter holidays. Probably Evarts does not care much for preliminary consultations with the British Government, being fully aware of the weak points in their arguments when pitted against its opinions are France, Italy and other nations who form a unit on the question of bimetallism with the United States. Austria has decided that it is her interest to join the Conference, while Germany still wavers. All nations recognize that the present system of the Bank of England being detrimental to their interests, is untenable, and causes serious inconvenience to other nations, unnecessarily disturbing currency and causing confusion in foreign exchanges. The determination of France is sufficiently demonstrated by appointing three of the highest authorities in finance as her representatives in the Conference.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The policy of the conductors of Scribner's Monthly in having a number of short novels to accompany their historical serial of "Peter the Great" has proved a fortunate one. The publication of "Peter the Great" has materially increased the circulation of the magazine, and resulted in the sale of a large number of back numbers and volumes (there have been one thousand copies of last year's volumes sold in England alone during the past few months), and the printing of these bright novelettes has appealed to even a wider constituency, and has been an excellent balance to the heavier material of the history. Of those already published, Mrs. Schayer's "Tiger-Lily" at once established her reputation as a writer of capital short stories, while nothing of Burnett's yet issued has been more widely read and enjoyed than "A Fair Barbarian." In May begins Mr. Cable's "Madame Delphine." The author of "The Grandissimes" has already scored so great a success as a writer of short stories and as a novelist that there can be but little doubt as to the quality of "Madame Delphine," Everyone knows Mr. Howells, and the announcement that he, too, will contribute a novelette, with the taking title of "A Fearful Responsibility," to begin in the June Scribner, has been received with no little satisfaction by his large constituency of readers. Later there will be printed a short serial by H. H. Boyeseen, and another by the author of "An Earnest Trifler," whose long silence since her first success augurs well for the new story. It is expected that these last two will begin in the "Midsummer" Scribner.

The Times, reviewing Jeff Davis' book, says: He takes conspicuous pains to assure his readers that he has not changed his mind in regard to any of the questions which involved the country in a terrible war. He is evidently the same uncompromising and unrepentant rebel described by Zach. Chandler in his memorable speech made to the Senate shortly before his death. Altogether, his book, as "A Vindication of the Principals which Animated the Confederates," can only be regarded as a very dismal failure. For his own reputation, it would have been much better had he never written it. He should not have again thrust himself into public notice. The country has had quite enough of the man who led the "Lost Cause." The Sacramento Bee thinks the book takes after its author and that seems the natural opinion. There is a fair presumption that every man is of some use to the world. Robert Toombs and Jefferson Davis proved themselves exceptions to the rule about twenty years ago.

The ship Mary and Helen, which has been detailed for the Jeannette search, will soon start on her Arctic voyage. The Relief Board has recommended to the Secretary of the Navy the following for the guidance of the examining officers in selecting the twenty-seven members of the crew: "The volunteers selected for service in the proposed search expedition should not be more than thirty-five years of age nor less than twenty-three, not only free from present disease or functional disturbance, but, so far as can be learned by the examiner, from tendency to disease, inherited or acquired. Their body weights should not exceed two and one-half pounds to inch of hight, nor fall below two pounds to the inch: and it is enjoined upon the medical examining officers that no applicant should be accepted as to whose physical condition there is just ground for doubt or suspicion." Commander Berry was one of the officers in the Tigress in her search for the Polaris in 1874.

The Chinese Six Companies will, it is said, combine to test the constitutionality of the opium law, passed at the recent session of the Nevada Legislature. This act makes it a misdemeanor for any person to have in his or her possession an opium pipe. The idea seems to have been that persons cannot smoke without a pipe, and the Six Companies will contest the matter as a business proposition. They have engaged three attorneys to conduct the case and if necessary carry it to the Supreme Court of the United States.

The Eureka papers are giving the particulars of a social scandal. Thos. Surrey allowed a waiter girl in a beer saloon to believe that she was the object of his affections. She acted upon the belief so fully that she refused to give up Surrey when his wife came to him from the East. The "star-eyed cyprian" drove Mrs. Surrey from her home, and she has since taken up a life of shame. The Sentinel advises Surrey to go and hang himself.

"Forty years ago the mills in New York were glad to have sawdust carted away, twenty-five years ago it could be bought for 50 cents a load, but the price has increased, and now it is worth $3 50 a load at the mill." Thousands of tons of ore have been thrown away in Nevada, which in any other country would have been profitably worked. We are not famous for economy, and have grown to be quite proud of the fact.

Divorces are an ancient institution. At Agra, once the capital of Hindostan, there is still to be seen on the frieze of the principal gate of the town an inscription which reminds the reader forcibly of the tendencies of our time. It reads as follows: "In the first year of the reign of Julius VII. there occurred a thousand cases of divorce, this great number exasperating the emperor to such a degree as to cause him to forbid the surrendering of the marriage tie. In the following year there were 8,000 marriages less, and 7,000 cases of adultery more, than in any previous year; 300 women who had poisoned their husbands were burned to death; 75 men who had murdered their wives were spiked; and the damage done to household furniture and chattels, broken, torn or burnt, was estimated at six millions of rupees. The emperor thereupon concluded to re-establish divorce with every privilege and facility."

A New Office-Holder.

Dan Garrard, the new Deputy Warden at the State prison, is a young man of great promise he has had full charge of W. S. Hobart's ranch and all his cattle out on Maggie creek for several years, where he has shown a high order of business talent. He is quiet, but positive, and if he is ever called upon will make a brave fighter.

According to the Arizona Democrat the nearest point to Prescott to which the A. & P. R. R. contemplates coming, is John Rogers' ranch, on Bill Williams Mountain, 7,025 feet above the level of the sea. This will also be the highest point the railroad will reach in the Territory. In going up to this station, the grade will be 135 feet to the mile.

Last Sunday night, about 9:30 o'clock, John Mullen, an old resident of Virginia City, fell into the cut at the north end of the E-street railroad tunnel, and received injuries which resulted in his death a short time after he was discovered.

The Tombstone Nugget says that the Huachuca Mountains are the most interesting mineral field in Arizona.

CAIRO, ILL., April 19.

At 1 o'clock this morning the Mayor received a telegram announcing that the north wing of the Southern Insane Asylum at Auna was burning, and asking for assistance. The Cairo fire department, with a special train and a steam fire engine were sent from here immediately. The latest intelligence is to the effect that the north wing has been consumed, but the fire is thought to be now under control. It is feared that two or three patients have been burned.

The Dead-Lock in the Senate.

NEW YORK, April 19.

While most journals affect to believe that the breaking of the Senatorial dead-lock is as far off as ever, a Herald Washington special says: It is reasonably certain there will be an interruption of some kind in the Senate dead-lock this week. A good many Senators of both sides think that the public business has been obstructed long enough, and there will probably be executive sessions during the week to consider a number of nominations.

Over 1,000 men are at work on the railroad in Arizona, between Bill Williams Mountain and the little Colorado.

The body of a negro was found near Raton, New Mexico, lately. The coyotes had eaten away the greater part of the face.

Francisca La Badeita, an old lady of Barleas, N. M., who has probably lived more than a century, drowned herself in the Rio Grande river near that place recently.

Miller & Lux are shearing 80,000 head of sheep at their ranch at Firebaugh Ferry, Cal. They will have the wool graded and ship it direct to Boston.

The Eureka, Nev., S. M. Company (Kit Carson) was listed on the Philadelphia Stock Board on the 7th inst., and will be placed on the New York Board in a few days.

The Chinamen are already becoming infected with the Wood River fever, and several of the Eureka highbinders are contemplating striking out shortly for the north.

The Chinese population is increasing in Tuscarora, new arrivals coming in every day. At night Chinatown appears to be the liveliest part of the burg—and by far the noisiest.

Says the Chronicle: "The stock of the Albion Company has been on the rise for the past week. The people on the Comstock are about as much excited over it as they are on account of the rise in their stocks."

The railroad office at Empire, Nev., has not been closed down. The citizens of that place guaranteed $40 a month by subscription towards paying the wages of an operator, the railroad company paying the balance.

The people of Bellevue, in the Wood River district, are calling on the outside world to open a bank, a machine shop, a furniture store, and to start two or three good smelters. There is said to be a splendid opening for all the above.

The Eureka Con. Company on Friday last commenced work again on the double-compartment shaft. They have only about 100 feet to sink before they will reach the drift on the twelfth level, which will enable them to free their mine from water.

A specimen of ore from the Bullion of Paradise mine excels in richness anything which the Silver State editor ever saw from Humboldt or any other mines. It weighs 185 pounds, and besides containing rich silver ores, is covered with native metal.

The Humboldt river is booming. It is out of its banks in many places, and as the sloughs are full, there are numerous islands along the bottom. The stream is not at the greatest height, nor is it likely to be for a month or six weeks yet.

Knust will continue to sell the large stock of general merchandise at cost for cash. Call on him and satisfy yourselves. feb

Walker vs. Washoe.

The case of W. A. Walker vs. Washoe county was argued in the Justice Court some days ago on demurrer, and submitted. The question was as to the County's liablity to pay the salary of a jailor. This morning Justice Young overruled the demurrer thus holding the complaint to be sufficient. The GAZETTE is informed that this decision virtually settles the case, and however it may terminate it seems as though the county should pay its jailor.

District Court.

The District Court has been occupied all day with the case of John Lee, executor, vs. Munroe Brothers, on trial before a jury.

INSANE ASYLUM.

Details of the Plans Drawn Up by J. S. Sturgeon of Reno.

J. S. Sturgeon, the architect, has been working for some time on a set of plans for the new asylum building soon to be erected near Reno. The plans are to be submitted on Thursday next, and a GAZETTE reporter has drawn from the architect the appended explanations of his design. The description will be interesting, as showing an approximate idea of the style of the building and what all the plans will try to provide for.

THE ASYLUM

is intended to face south, overlooking the Truckee river, and consist of a main center building and two wings running east and west, making a front of 285 feet by a depth of 145 feet, and two stories high above the basement, which will be 9 feet above the present surface of the ground; but the earth removed from the foundation will be placed around the outside of the same so as to form a terrace two feet high to give a better elevation and protection against frosts. The main center building will be divided by the main corridor, 12 feet wide, running its entire length in each story. The basement contains the kitchen, bakery, pantry, store room, wood-room, coal-room, trunk-room, tool-room, etc.

THE FIRST FLOOR

contains the office, reception-room, laboratory, clerks'-room, three dining rooms (in size 24x37, 20x25 and 16x20, all of which are connected with the kitchen by dumb waiters), and a lavatory which also has an outside entrance.

The second floor contains the library, reading-room, steward's-room, matron's-room, sewing-room, dining-room, 20x25 also connected with the kitchen by a dumb waiter. Four sleeping apartments for servants, bath-room, and lavatory with stairs leading down to first story and basement. The wings are also divided by a corridor, 10 feet wide, running their entire length in each story.

IN THE BASEMENT

will be placed the engine-room, fan-room, hot air chamber, laundry, drying-room, ironing-room, fuel-room and a number of store-rooms. Each of the wings in the first and second stories are divided alike, each containing one day-room 24x23, three dormitories 21x22 each, and twelve smaller sleeping-rooms, two bath-rooms each, one lavatory and three water closets. Three stairways lead from each ward, which, with a front and rear porch, afford abundant means of escape in case of fire, and as a further protection each ward, and also the main building from the kitchen and dining rooms, are separated by brick walls and iron doors. The basement will be built of stone and the first and second story will be brick with stone window and door sills and lintles. The roof and cornices will be iron. The Newell posts to front steps and the posts supporting the front porch and portico will be of cast iron.

VENTILATION.

On the roof will be placed six ventilators 6 feet in dismeter, as also a small dome, which serves the double purpose of a belfry and a ventilator, which is surmounted by a flag-pole, the top of which will be 125 feet above the ground. The machinery for running the ventilating fan and pump will be run by a small Turbine wheel, while the steam for heating, washing and cooking purposes will be furnished by two tubular boilers placed some ways in the rear of the main building. The building will be lighted with gas throughout, but whether from the Reno gas works or manufactured at the building is not yet decided. One feature of the plan is that there is not a dark room, passage or corridor in the building, but all are connected by windows with the outside. The windows in the ward building are intended to have their interior bars and muntons of cast iron, and the rails and stiles of wood, and none of the glass over 6 inches wide, by means of which all prison like bars are dispensed with on the inside. It will be noticed that architect Sturgeon seems to have taken in all necessary arrangements for comfort and safety.

Runaway.

Yesterday afternoon as D. W. O'Connor was driving across the track on Sierra street, one of his horses got a leg over the pole of the wagon and started to run. Soon after crossing the track the animal fell and was dragged about fifteen yards before the team could be stopped. No damage.

JOTTINGS.

—The sheep men are bustling about and moving their bands to the summer ranges.

—The mountain roads are nearly all open and dairy men are getting away from the harvest sun.

—A few boards wouldn't hurt the Glendale bridge, but would change its appearance wonderfully.

—At the Depot hotel Messrs. Clawson and Chamberlain have a fine display of Easter boquets.

—The GAZETTE office is to have a "Willard Telephone." It will then be able to report the "Latest by Telephone."

—The Crown Prince folks tried to buy the Lady Bryan mill, but could not make terms. They will look elsewhere.

—Policeman H. S. Brown informs us that there are a great many footpads in town, and many prominent citizens refuse to go home without protection.

—They only had sixteen babies at the Bench Show in Carson, and two of those were borrowed from Empire. Two Reno families on a visit make a better showing than that.

—Bill Hymers, Tom's old cart horse, has shuffled off this mortal coil. Tom handed in this morning an obituary in rhyme. The printers were all affected to tears and couldn't set it up.

A Clever Prisoner.

Charles Brunett, who is now in durance vile because he undertook to practice the customs of Hafrica in America, is a clever workman. He is an old sailor and beguiles the weary hours by making trinkets with the use of his penknife. In the Sheriff's office may be seen a bottle inside of which Brunett has erected a full-rigged ship with every rope in position and each spar ready for the canvass. He has also made for Deputy Gray's amusement a toy called the "magic ball," and it is a pleasant sight to see the intense satisfaction which Dute derives from putting the magic ball through its movements.

Athletic.

On Friday evening next the Athletic Club will give another of its free exhibitions in Kimball's Hall. The exercises will consist of class and fancy turning, fencing, broad-sword, boxing, and club-swinging, and will be an exponent of the regular work of the Club. The friends of the Club are invited to be be present at 9 o'clock. Seats will be provided for the ladies. All members who will take part in the exercises are requested to be at the hall at 9 o'clock this evening.

The I X L Sale.

The GAZETTE understands that the entire stock of the I X L store was offered in one lot for $3,000. At the recent sale about $3,500 was realized in sales, and nearly as much more was shipped below at the close of the sale.

Stockholder's Meeting.

The stockholders in the Central Drain Ditch Co. will meet at the North Truckee School House on Saturday next April 23rd, at 2 o'clock P. M.

PERSONAL.

Phi Bates?

Dave Pechner went to Virginia yesterday.

Kind words are bald-headed. They can never dye.

P. N. Marker was in town to-day on roads and railroads.

The Munroe Brothers and Theo Blasdell, of Pyramid, are in the Capitol.

C. J. Hillyer Esq., attorney for the Bonanza firm, was on the lightning this morning.

Major Wasson and James McMasters, the new Indian Agent for Nevada, went to Walker Lake this morning.

Louis Bevier, formerly of Pyramid, now of the Walker Lake Indian Reservation, was visiting his many friends in Reno yesterday.

F. L. Currier, for some time past telegraph operator and baggage master at Huffaker's and at the Gold Hill depot, has accepted a place on the Carson & Colorado railroad.

Who Wants It?

An Irish politician who had "a grate deal o' polettical influence in the ward" recently made himself very solid with a follower by engaging him to "g' out to Black Point and take a census o' the sea gulls at $2 a day.' There is another position now open which the GAZETTE hopes to see some Reno man fill. A signal office is about to be established by the Government at Point Barrow in Northern Alaska, in latitude 71° 30. The Commander of the Signal Corps, not wishing to order any of his subordinates to that frigid region, has called for a volunteer to take charge of the station. As Point Barrow is away up in the Arctic regions, and inhabited only by a few Russian trappers, some Esquimaux Indians and polar bears, the GAZETTE wants to see some enterprising man and good Democrat secure the position. The salary is not fixed, but a man who has Russian trappers and polar bears furnished him has nothing left to wish for. One of our best young men with a warm heart now has a chance to make himself useful.

Didn't Know Him.

When Dave Willard was on his eastern trip he enquired for the Pullman Car when some where near Chicago. He was given the necessary direction and kept going for an hour towards the car, carrying a heavy valise, and in haste for fear of losing a section. At last he arrived and being very much exhausted dropped the valise on the floor with a bang and called for a section.

The Pullman conductor came rushing towards Dave and threatened that unless there was less noise he would throw a small man out of the window.

"Yes but see here" said Dave, "you don't seem to know who I am."

"No I don't," was the answer.

"Well you want to be a little more careful," said Mr. Willard, striking a proper attitude, "I'm a Tourist, I am." He got the section.

A New Telephone.

The transmission of sound is receiving a great deal of study, and each day announces some improvement in the appliances. We were shown to-day one of the instruments of the "Willard Telephone." It is a model of simplicity and durability. O. V. Munroe, of this city, is agent for the State. Those in need of Telephones will do well to see this kind before purchasing. They are sold outright are cheaper, and said to be much better than the "Bell Telephone." See 50-cent ad.

Spring Styles.

The spring fashions in sore toes are now much worn, and may be seen on several of our prominent citizens. Blakely has one with a cotton overskirt and twine streamers. Postmaster Jamison has a very neat arrangement of red and white about his spring toe, with a background of calfskin and facings of the same, while Rev. Mr. McKelvey has a novelty in the way of an ingrowing nail, which has cost him much attention already and which he looks upon with great tenderness and solicitude.

Steamboat Ditch.

A. M. Lamb informs the GAZETTE of the progress of work on the Steamboat Irrigating Canal. A force of fifty men are now at work. The ditch has been cleaned for a distance of eighteen miles, and there remains twelve or fourteen miles which will be repaired by May 1st. These ditch items show that our system of irrigation is expanding very rapidly.

Card of Thanks.

Ed. Gazette:— Permit me to express my heart-felt thanks to all the friends who so kindly and cheerfully assisted at our Easter service. It was in every respect the most pleasing and interesting service we have ever enjoyed. The music—furnished by a double quartette composed of the following ladies and gentlemen: Mrs. Hilliard and Mrs. Taylor, sopranos; Mrs. Chapin and Mrs. Hanford, altos; Dr. Leonard and C. M. Fassett, tenors; R. H. Lindsay and Mr. Scoville, basses;—was of the the finest class of church music, and delighted everyone present. The readings in the evening were the very choicest selections, and Misses McNeeley, Warren and Knowlton did themselves justice in the rendering. The young ladies who acted as ushers, and all others assisting in decorations have my sincere thanks and best wishes, as also the friends who placed their plants at our disposal. Last, but not least, the many kind friends who contributed to make Easter, to me, as pleasant as Palm Sunday was sad, by the presentation of an Easter offering of $65, as an expression of sympathy, and to make up for my loss of the Sabbath previous. This was done in such a quiet way that I knew nothing of it till it was placed on the altar table at morning service. And this was all the more pleasant in that (I learned) many who were in no way connected with my church contributed most cheerfully. To say that I am grateful, but feebly expresses my feelings. May the blessing of God, that maketh rich, and addeth no sorrow, be given to all. C. MCKELVEY.

North Truckee Drain Ditch.

Articles of incorporation of the above named company were filed yesterday in the office of the Secretary of State. Principal place of business, Reno. Objects of formation are: to enlarge, extend, repair, construct and maintain in repair a canal or ditch, now known by the name of the North Truckee Drain Ditch, situated in Washoe county, commencing at the lower end thereof where a slough on the farm of D. W. O'Connor empties into said ditch; thence to the trestle work under the flume of the North Truckee (irrigation) Ditch; thence following the natural channel of Spanish Spring Valley creek. Such drain ditch to be used by the stockholders principally to drain their respective lands of all surplus waters through or connecting ditches, and incidentally to furnish water for irrigation to those who can use it, on such terms as the company may agree upon. Amount of capital stock, $25,000, divided into 250 shares of the par value of $100 each. Term of existence, 50 years. Isaac P. Johnson, James Black and James Pollock have been named as the Trustees for the ensuing term.

The Schools.

The Public Schools are going on just as though nothing had happened, although it is said Supt. Bowen has placed his children in a private school. You would never know that there had been a dead-lock in the Board, and in fact there never was. The teachers are all happy, and there are 290 children in attendance.

Police Court.

The new jury in the Dalton case were taken out to-day to view the scene of the obstruction, and at 3 o'clock this afternoon the trial was proceeded with. This case has excited considerable interest among the ranchers, and the result is awaited with much anxiety.

"Old Abe's" Decision.

Washington Cor. N. Y. Tribune.

I cannot end this prosy dissertation on appointments better than by telling an anecdote. It must be true, for I had it to-day from Murat Halstead, who is here to oppose an extra session. During Lincoln's time there was a great row over the postoffice in Major Bicklam's town of Dayton, Ohio. Two Hotspurs were in the field. Petition after petition in favor of one or the other poured in upon the President, and delegation after delegation hastened to Washington to argue the case. Mr. Lincoln was a long-suffering man, but his patience gave out at last. He could not determine that one application was in the slightest degree more competent or more patriotic or better supported than the other. Finally after being bored by a fresh delegation, he said to his secretary: "This matter has got to end somehow. Bring me a pair of scales." The scales were brought. "Now put in all the petitions and letters of one man and see how much they weigh, and then weigh the other fellow's pile." It was found that one bundle was three-quarters of a pound heavier than the other. "Make out an appointment for the man who has the heaviest papers," said Mr. Lincoln, and it was done.

Baptized and Hanged.

From the New York World.

WAVERLY, Tenn., April 8.—John W. Williams, who murdered his wife in April, 1877, was hanged here to-day in the presence of 4,000 people. He was baptized in the creek near the jail in the morning by Elder Thomas, of the Northern Methodist church. An immense crowd was present on the banks. At the foot of the bridge the minister began the song "On Jordan's Stormy Banks I stand," and the colored people in the crowd joined in. As Williams arose from the water he began shouting loudly, and it was with difficulty that the sheriff and guards could hold him. He said he was now ready to die and was willing to go. He was taken back to the jail where he put on dry clothes. At noon he was taken by Sheriff Collier to the scaffold about a quarter of a mile from the jail. After services of song and prayer Williams made a few remarks in which he said the punishment meted was just, that he committed the crime for which he was to suffer, and he advised all present to avoid drinking.

The Power of a Snowdrift.

The Northwestern Railway Company has spent over thre hundred thousand dollars in the fight against snow since October last. Thirty-four immense snow plows have had plenty of work, and these have been backed up tremendously by from two to six locomotives each. The might of these plows and the great power of a snowdrift may be estimated from the facts that one plow weighing 48,000 pounds, ballasted by 80,000 pounds of railway iron and driven by six locomotives, attacked a snow-choked cutting, but was defeated. The drift was fifty-two feet high. When the workmen, after the tremendous charge, caught a glimpse of the immense plow, they found that it, with its 128,000 pounds had been repelled as if it were a feather, and that it had rolled disconsolately over the drift and lodged against some forest trees, where it proposes to remain until summer. From one cut 324,000 cubic yards of snow were taken out. but in eight hours the wind had piled it up full again. Nine thousand men have been employed from time to time during the winter as shovelers.

Taking up the Carlyle style of portraiture, the editor of the Providence Journal turns out this silhoutte of the master: "Carlyle was an overgrown Scotch pedagogue, who had taken to teaching the world, instead of his class in Kirealdy, a mass of egotism, prejudice and ill-temper, as unattractive in manners as in appearance, and about as good company as a Scotch thistle." The editor goes on to say: "When one reads Carlyle's brutal description of Charles Lamb and his sister as 'a sorry pair of phenomona,' 'insuperable proclivity to gin in poor old Lamb,' 'the ignorance and shallowness' of his talk and 'frosty artificialities of wit,' the gorge rises, and one feels that he had much rather take his chance of immortality with the little volume of the essays of Lamb, bathed in the kindly light of humor and gentleness and a tender scrap or two of verse, than the glaring, lurid battle pieces, the extravagant preachments and solemn vaticinations of the forty volumes of Carlyle; to recognize as much more heroic, as sweeter and infinitely more pathetic the devotion of Lamb to his sister in the awful tragedy of their lives, than anything in Carlyle's own experience: and to scout as the pomposity of a pedagogue the alar at the ignorance and shallowness so saturated with the highest kind of learning an fine English literature as Charles Lamb."

From numerous cases of Dyspepsia and Constupation, cured by the use of Fellow's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, after every known remedy has been used in vain, its efficacy in restoring the functions of Digestion and Evacuation is manifest.

Given Up by Doctors.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That is remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George —I know hops are good."
